

In these unprecedented circumstances, there has never been a more important time for our community to stick together.

We all have a role to play in helping each other right now.

Visit mandurahmatters.com.au/covid to find out more about how you can help.

The Plan

1. Check-in with each other

What the City will do:	How you can help:
You may receive a phone call from a City of Mandurah staff member or community volunteer just to check in with you.	Check in on your neighbours in a safe way, share phone numbers and help each other out where you can.

2. Support Network Co-ordination

What the City will do:	How you can help:
Work with agencies, community organisations and groups to coordinate support activity across our community.	If you're part of a group that can help or have an idea, let us know about it. Go to mandurahmatters.com.au/covid

3. Talk to each other

What the City will do:	How you can help:
Make sure our community is connected, coordinated and keeping up to date with the best information to keep people safe.	Share your positive stories of community support, so we can help get the message out. Go to mandurahmatters.com.au/covid

Supported by:

Covid-19 is highly infectious. Please take all precautions as advised by the WA Department of Health, and share only kindness.