A Message from Prosecutor Lynn Deddens

Each year brings new challenges to the criminal justice system, but the responsibility of the Prosecutor's Office remains the same: to protect the people of Dearborn and Ohio Counties, seek justice for victims, and hold offenders accountable. The cases coming into our courts are more than numbers. Each represents conduct that affected a victim, a family, or the safety of our community.

Among the trends that concern me most are dangerous and impaired driving and the increasing number of juvenile cases. A decision to drive while impaired, recklessly, or at an excessive speed can change — or end — a life in seconds.

That reality was brought painfully close to home during one weekend in June, when four people lost their lives in two separate crashes in Dearborn County. These tragedies devastated local families and deeply affected the first responders, dispatchers, law enforcement officers, and others involved. Both matters have required careful investigation, and charges are forthcoming. Because the cases remain pending, I cannot discuss their specific facts, but they are a sobering reminder of the irreversible consequences that can result from choices made behind the wheel.

We are also seeing more young people enter the juvenile justice system for offenses involving battery, domestic battery, property damage, and illegal drug use.

During the first six months of 2026, Dearborn County recorded 95 juvenile filings, compared with 113 during all of 2025. Accountability is important, but so are early intervention, education, treatment, and strong support from families and schools. Addressing these behaviors early gives young people the best opportunity to choose a better path.

Our office continues to handle a broad caseload that includes domestic violence, crimes against children, violent offenses, drug-related crimes, property crimes, and serious traffic offenses. In 2025, more than 4,500 criminal, juvenile and traffic cases were filed in the courts serving Dearborn and Ohio Counties.

Some of our most serious cases represent only a small portion of those filings. Sex offenses account for less than one percent of our total caseload, yet they are among the most complex, time-intensive, and emotionally difficult cases we prosecute. These cases frequently involve vulnerable victims, extensive digital or forensic evidence, specialized interviews, expert testimony, and close coordination among law enforcement, medical professionals, and victim advocates. Their relatively small number should never be mistaken for a lack of seriousness or impact.

The challenges facing our communities are real, but so is our ability to meet them. By working together to prevent crime, intervene early, support victims, and hold offenders accountable, we can make a meaningful difference. It is a privilege to serve the people of Dearborn and Ohio Counties, and my office remains committed to doing its part to build safer, stronger communities for everyone.

Getting Youth Involved Around the Community

Leadership and Law

Have you ever wondered what it would be like to investigate a crime or put on a criminal trial in court? Or maybe you want to learn more about the legal system. If this describes you, then the Leadership and Law Program is for you! Prosecutor Lynn Deddens and Judge Sally McLaughlin co-sponsor an internship program every summer for High School Students within the county who are entering their Sophomore, Junior or Senior year and are interested in these types of careers. This one-week intensive program provides students with a valuable opportunity to observe live proceedings, interact with professionals, and utilize leadership skills while providing insight into careers in criminal law, law enforcement, forensic sciences, and government.

Students will:

- Experience real court in action
- Investigate a mock-crime and get first-hand experience using CSI crime scene technology
- Take a field trip to the Hamilton County Coroner's Office and Crime Lab in Blue Ash, Ohio to learn about forensic pathology
- Conduct a mock trial court proceeding based on the mock crime investigated

- And ultimately have a blast while making new friends

Interested students can apply each Spring through their High School Guidance office or by emailing the Dearborn-Ohio County Prosecutor's Office. The program generally occurs for one full week in June. Interested students are always welcome to reach out to Kristina Martin in the Dearborn-Ohio Prosecutor's office for more information (kmartin@dearbornohioprocutor.com) or 812.537.8884.

Did you know that the Dearborn County Sheriff's Office is part of an important National Task Force, called ICAC, dedicated to investigating, prosecuting and developing effective responses to internet crimes against children?

One of the best tools we have to prevent internet crimes against children is education. Educating students through school-based prevention programs is one of the ways that the Dearborn County Sheriff's Office, in collaboration with the County School Corporations, supports the local community as part of the ICAC Task Force Program.

If you need additional support, the Dearborn County Sheriff's Department can help:

Getting Youth Involved Around the Community

Student Art Gallery inside the Dearborn County Courthouse

In 2017, the courthouse expansion project was completed. It was commenced to provide adequate square footage for the various county offices and address operational safety concerns. The plan added a 40,000 square foot building situated between the existing historic courthouse and the modern county administration building. The new spaces consist of 2 Superior Courts, Prosecutor's Suite, Large Meeting Room, Public Entry Security Post/Screening, and an unfinished basement.

The Courthouse expansion left us with a long hallway and a lot of blank space. "It needed artwork," said Prosecutor Lynn Deddens, who travels the hallway routinely in her work as Dearborn-Ohio County Prosecutor. In the spring of 2020, Prosecutor Deddens had the idea for an art contest open to High School students in the County to fill the hallway with their art. The contest encouraged students to create art depicting historic Dearborn County, a rendering of something current in Dearborn County, or a patriotic drawing of Dearborn County. The winning selections were displayed in that adjoining hallway and has since created a unique landscape fondly referred to as The Student Art Gallery. "As prosecutor, I am always looking for ways to engage young people in positive activities. This meets that goal, and allows us to recognize and reward the many talented young people in our community, and to provide some beautiful artwork for our Courthouse," said Deddens. The art contest has been such a fun way to engage our local student artists. Prosecutor Deddens regularly sponsors new art contests to expand the artwork on display.

America 250 Art Contest

On July 4, 2026, our nation commemorated the 250th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. The journey toward this historic milestone was an opportunity to pause and reflect on our nation's past, honor the contributions of all Americans, and look ahead toward the future we want to create for the next generation and beyond.

Prosecutor Deddens leveraged this milestone to ask students to once again contribute their talents to a new art contest and expand the Student Art Gallery. Students were asked to create a drawing or digitally enhanced photograph to showcase the heart of what makes the United States feel like home while also honoring the 250th anniversary of our country. Some of the art reflected back over the last 250 years, some celebrated traditions in our culture, others looked ahead to what the next 250 years may bring. 11 new winning submissions are now on display in the Student Art Gallery. Prosecutor Deddens is so grateful to all the students who participated, once again, in the art contest!

How To Support Youth In Our Community

Dearborn-Ohio County
Child Advocates

Be the Voice of a Child: Volunteer as a Court Appointed Special Advocate in Dearborn and Ohio Counties

In Dearborn and Ohio Counties, abused and neglected children who enter the juvenile court system through no fault of their own need a consistent, independent advocate. That advocate is a Court Appointed Special Advocate (CASA)—a trained community volunteer who serves as the child's voice in court. Locally, this work is carried out by Dearborn-Ohio County Child Advocates (DOCCA), known as Voice of a Child.

CASAs are ordinary community members appointed by the court to represent the best interests of children in Child in Need of Services (CHINS) cases. Unlike caseworkers or attorneys who juggle many responsibilities, a CASA focuses on one or a small number of children — getting to know the child, reviewing records, speaking with parents, caregivers, and professionals, and providing the court with an independent, fact-based recommendation.

The role has several key parts:

- Investigator – Gathering relevant facts through interviews, records, and observations.
- Advocate – Presenting information and recommendations to the court through written reports and testimony.
- Facilitator – Helping identify needed services and encouraging collaboration among those involved.
- Monitor – Following up to ensure court orders and service plans are carried out.

Research shows children with a CASA are more likely to find safe, permanent homes, spend less time in foster care, and receive needed educational and medical support — often becoming one of the few steady adults in a child's life during a period of upheaval.

Who Can Serve?

No background in law, social work, or child welfare is required — just genuine concern for children, common sense, objectivity, and willingness to train. Volunteers must be at least 21, hold a high school diploma or equivalent, pass background checks, and complete approximately 30 hours of pre-service training. Afterward, volunteers spend about 8–10 hours per month per case, remain with the case (typically 1–2 years) until it closes, and complete 12 hours of annual continuing education.

Why This Matters in Our Community

Every child deserves a safe, stable, permanent home. The court system works better when trained volunteers stand beside children affected by abuse or neglect. DOCCA recruits, trains, supports, and supervises CASA volunteers so every child achieves permanency in a safe, loving home as soon as possible.

If you care about children and want to make a tangible difference in Dearborn or Ohio County, consider becoming a CASA. Your time, attention, and steady presence can help change the course of a child's life.

Youth Vaping: What Parents Should Know

Vaping can be easy for parents to miss. Today's devices are often small, colorful and designed to look like everyday items, including USB drives or pens. Many are sold with sweet or fruity flavors that can appeal to teens, from candy and dessert flavors to mint and fruit blends.

Thus, it's not surprising that the most recent Indiana Youth Tobacco survey found that about 1 out of every 20 high school students in the Hoosier state had used a vape in the last 30 days.

The devices are often marketed in ways that attract young people and presented as a less harmful alternative to traditional cigarettes.

"It is by design that vaping products are attractive, small and covert. They are the perfect size for young people to carry and conceal, and the variety of flavors makes them even more appealing," said Dr. Kimberly Cooper, a pediatrician with St. Elizabeth Physicians in Greendale.

Many vaping products contain nicotine, which is highly addictive and can have impact the developing brain. Because the brain continues developing into young adulthood, teens are especially vulnerable to addiction.

Further, all vapes contain metals and solvents that are inhaled directly into the lungs, and those chemicals can be harmful. Some vapes also contain added flavoring chemicals, THC or other illicit substances.

For teens, the reasons behind vaping are often complicated. Some are curious. Some want to fit in. Others may see vaping as a way to manage stress or anxiety.

That's why conversations at home matter.

What to Look For

If you think your teen may be vaping, watch for the following:

- Sweet or fruity smells.
- Unfamiliar devices or pods.
- More coughing or throat-clearing.
- Irritability when a teen cannot vape.
- Frequent bathroom breaks.
- A sudden drop in stamina during sports.

If you are concerned your child may be vaping, start with curiosity instead of confrontation. Try asking, "I've been hearing a lot about vaping at school. What have you seen?"

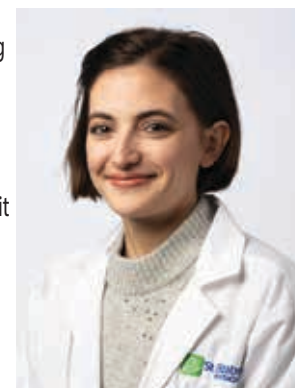

If your teen admits to trying or using vape products, stay calm. The goal is to keep the conversation open, not shut it down.

"It is not about a scripted response, fear or punishment. It is about education," Dr. Cooper said. "I think it helps parents to think of these conversations as another way to connect with our kids, rather than an uncomfortable topic."

Sharing facts can also help build trust. Talk about how vaping could affect the things your teen cares about, such as sports, singing, school performance or long-term goals.

If your teen wants to quit, encouragement and support are important. Quitting can be difficult, especially when nicotine is involved, and progress may take time. Helpful resources include texting DITCHVAPE to 88709, calling 1-800-QUIT-NOW, or talking with a school counselor or pediatrician.

Parents are still one of the most important influences in a teen's life. Staying informed, keeping communication open and offering support can help teens make healthier choices. If your teen is already vaping, support them through their journey to quit. Celebrate progress and keep the conversation going.

Indiana Homelessness Laws Changing: Heart House Inc. Building Pathways from Crisis to Self-Sufficiency

A new Indiana law, Senate Enrolled Act 285, took effect July 1, 2026, establishing a statewide approach to homelessness and prohibiting sleeping or long-term sheltering on state and local public property.

At Heart House Inc., we prefer the term “housing insecurity” because homelessness is about more than where someone sleeps. For many, housing insecurity results from unemployment, transportation challenges, family instability, mental health or substance use issues, limited resources, or the rising cost of housing. In many cases, we are all only a few difficult circumstances away from experiencing a housing crisis.

As Indiana's laws change, community partnerships become more important than ever. People need somewhere to go before they can be expected to move forward.

For more than 22 years, Heart House has provided emergency shelter and supportive services to individuals and families throughout Dearborn County, surrounding counties, the Greater Cincinnati area, and beyond. Our mission goes beyond providing a bed. We provide a safe place where people can begin addressing the barriers contributing to their housing crisis.

The goal is Self-Sufficiency and It Takes a Community

No single organization can solve housing insecurity. It takes law enforcement, courts, prosecutors, municipalities, employers, healthcare providers, recovery organizations, social service agencies, faith communities, housing providers, volunteers, and neighbors working together.

Every person who moves from housing insecurity into permanent housing and employment represents more than one success story. It is another person contributing to the workforce, strengthening their family, participating in the community, and potentially helping others.

That is the transformation Heart House strives to create.

With the right intervention, partnerships, accountability, and support, housing insecurity does not have to be the end of someone's story. It can be the beginning of a new chapter.

Heart House Inc. is here to help. Help. Hope. A Home.

CARE Resource Connection, Bridges & Child Support

CARE Resource Connection: A Community Hub for Hope and Support

Sometimes, finding help is the hardest part. The CARE Resource Connection was created to make that first step easier by bringing services, support, and community partners together under one roof.

Located at 132 Industrial Drive in Lawrenceburg, the CARE Resource Connection is a welcoming community resource hub where anyone can walk in and connect with the help they need. No appointment or referral is required. Whether you're looking for recovery support, employment assistance, health insurance information, food resources, or simply aren't sure where to start, our team is here to help.

The building is home to several community organizations, including Safe Passage, 1Voice, INcompass Healthcare, Rock Solid Families, Choices Coordinated Care Solutions and Hello New Beginnings. On Tuesday mornings, representatives from Southeastern Indiana Economic Opportunity Corporation (SIEOC) provide Covering Kids & Families services, helping individuals and families navigate Medicaid, Marketplace, and other health insurance options, while WorkOne offers employment and workforce assistance.

Visitors also have access to an emergency food pantry, hygiene supplies, and immediate support from a Certified Peer Recovery Coach. A NaloxBox is located on the exterior of the building and is available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, providing free naloxone for anyone who may need it to respond to an opioid overdose. If a needed service isn't located in the building, we'll help connect individuals with trusted resources throughout the community.

The CARE Resource Connection is also a place for learning and growth. 1Voice hosts evidence-based recovery skills groups twice each week, and the facility regularly offers community workshops, educational programs, and trainings focused on health, wellness, recovery, and family support.

The CARE Resource Connection grew from the vision of the Community Action Recovery Effort (CARE), a community-wide initiative dedicated to strengthening recovery and improving the health and well-being of Dearborn County. With the support of the City of Lawrenceburg, that vision became a reality. The City donated the building, renovations were completed through State of Indiana opioid settlement funding, and INcompass Healthcare serves as the building's landlord. Today, CARE Initiative partners continue to oversee the resource hub, ensuring it remains responsive to the needs of our community.

The CARE Resource Connection is open Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Community members are welcome to call 812-553-2707 or simply come by to learn about available resources. Whether you need assistance today, are looking for information for a loved one, or just don't know where to begin, we're here to help. If you know someone who could benefit from these services, please help us spread the word.

We aim to provide quality, comprehensive mental health and family services that promote hope, health and wellness for our community members.

Bridges Counseling & Family Services is proud to provide an Abuse Intervention Program (AIP) designed to help men examine their belief system and behaviors that support violence, expand definitions of violence and controlling behaviors, discuss the effects of violence on women, children, and themselves, and identify and practice noncontrolling alternatives. Bridges AIP is certified by the Indiana Coalition Against Domestic Violence. Bridges Abuse Intervention Program

Program Goals:

- Stopping his violence and abusive behavior
- Understanding the effect of his violence and controlling behavior
- Accepting responsibility for his behavior and taking specific steps to change
- Learning to be respectful of her by listening, expressing feelings in a non-abusive way, and supporting her right to make her own choices about her day-to-day activities and life.

Abuse involves behaviors used to exert power and control over another person. While physical violence is the most visible form, emotional abuse, intimidation, threats, isolation, coercion, stalking, and financial control are also common. Understanding all forms of abuse is crucial for promoting victim safety, offender accountability, and fostering healthier relationships in the community.

Sex and Violent Offender Registry - Dearborn County

The purpose of the registry is to inform the general public about the identity, location, and appearance of sex and violent offenders who live, work, or study in Indiana. Effective January 1, 2003, Zachary's Law requires sheriff departments to jointly establish and maintain the Indiana Sheriffs' Sex Offender Registry to provide detailed information about individuals who register as sex or violent offenders at Indiana Sheriff Departments.

This information is meant to educate you about offenders in our community. It has not been made available for you to take action against any individual. Please report all information on offenders directly to law enforcement. Those individuals seeking to harass, harm or confront an offender can be arrested and prosecuted.

The Dearborn County Sheriff's Office makes no representation, either implied or expressed, that all information placed on this publication or web site is accurate. Much of the information is derived from official records but some is gathered from the offenders themselves who are required to list their address when they have been released into the community at large, whenever they move, change jobs or change vehicles, and as part of an annual verification process. Information contained provides no representation as to any offender's likelihood of re-offending or the nature of any future crimes that may be committed.

Sex and Violent Offender Registry - Ohio County

The Ohio County Sheriff's Office makes no representation, either implied or expressed, that all information placed on this publication or web site is accurate. Much of the information derived from official records but some is gathered from the offenders themselves who are required to list their address when they have been released into the community at large, whenever they move, and as part of an annual verification process. Information contained on this site provides no representation as to any offender's likelihood of re-offending or the nature of any future crimes that may be committed.

The following names and images are dated: August 14, 2026.

For questions concerning our sex offender community awareness program in Ohio County, please contact: Annie Jo Jackson at ajackson@ohiocounty.in.gov or phone 812-438-3636.
