TAKING CARE OF BUSINESS NEWSLETTER - ISSUE 19

Lots of reaction to Budget 2023 as the range of supports for businesses were assessed. The concrete levy remained controversial and Tom Parlon of the CIF outlined the organisations view on the matter to Ronan. Local food producers were celebrated too. Feighrey's Farms introduced their Beet Bullet and Glenisk nears full production one year on from the devastating fire in 2021. Laois Chamber drew attention to the shortage of IDA backed jobs in the county, by far the lowest in the Midlands region. Researchers at TUS Athlone are embarking on a €9m research project into the metaverse focussing on arts and entertainment.

The Faculty of Lifelong Learning at TUS Athlone officially opened a series of Learning Gates across the midlands in partnership with local co-working hubs. The Camsaw Group in Laois expanded by acquiring One Stop Fulfillment and Woodlands Farm Shop opened in Ballacolla. To cap it all off, Darren Doyle spoke about the importance of eliminating jargon in business communications, in all but a few scenarios!

GOOD NEWS STORIES OF THE MONTH:

Glenisk set to return to full production one year after factory fire - with Vincent Cleary.
